Biro Pens

Happy 117th Birthday, László József Bíró

Who's Laszlo Jozsef Biro, you may ask? Just as the Second World War was about to begin in 1938, Biro invented the eponymous Biro pen, used by millions of people around the world every day.

László József Bíró, born on 29 September 1899 in Budapest, was a sometime journalist, painter and inventor who was frustrated with fountain pens blotting and smudging. He got the idea on a visit to a newspaper printing press, which used quick-drying ink and a roller. Read more here

Here are five things you might not know about the inventor of the Biro pen.

New Zodiac Sign_ Ophiuchus signs now include Ophiuchus making it thirteen and rattling the world.

The post, written for children, referenced how the ancient Babylonians used twelve constellations to devise a Zodiac chart ignoring their own calculations that said the sun actually moves through 13 constellations.

The NASA post also pointed out that 3,000 years later the sky has shifted because Earth's axis doesn't point in quite the same direction, meaning the hard and fast start and end dates used to determine Zodiac signs aren't entirely accurate anymore.

Could Zodiac Signs Be Shifting?

Thought you were a Libra? Better check the new zodiac signs chart because there's been a shift in the zodiac calendar and your sign most likely has changed too.

Why all the buzz about Ophiuchus? An internet post on NASA's Space Place website got things started. In an entertaining statement released by NASA on September 27th, the agency clarified that they did not change the zodiac signs - they simply did the math. Instead of twelve, the zodiac
